

Each of the Orange, Green and Blue LLI Systems contain two Professional Development DVDs. These DVDs feature step-by-step tutorials on coding, scoring and analyzing reading behaviors in a Reading Record in addition to showing complete LLI lessons that model instructional practices.

In addition to the Professional Development built into LLI, there are several levels of Professional Development support offered: a three-day introductory course delivered by Heinemann consultants; or a six-day, intensive course delivered by Lesley University and Ohio State University (OSU), and a three-day summer institute taught by Fountas and Pinnell.

You can tailor the Professional Development to the specific needs of your school or district:

1. A Heinemann consultant can come onto your campus for an introductory training that involves all your teachers (up to the max of 30).
2. An individual or group of teachers can attend the Lesley or OSU Professional Development for in-depth training.
3. A Heinemann consultant can provide on-site training to get things started and a teacher leader (or leaders) can attend the off-site training for more in-depth professional development from Lesley or OSU.
4. An individual or group of teachers can attend the Heinemann summer institute for three days of training by Fountas & Pinnell.

Heinemann Professional Development presents:

Systematic Intervention to Help Struggling Readers: Implementing Leveled Literacy Intervention (LLI) for Levels A–N

A three-day institute with Irene C. Fountas & Gay Su Pinnell ■ Chicago, IL ■ October 28, 29 & 30 ■ 2008

In this institute participants will be introduced to a supplementary intervention system designed to help teachers provide powerful, daily small-group instruction for struggling readers. Leveled Literacy Intervention is a system for improving the reading and writing achievement of the lowest achieving children in the early grades. Students participate in 30 minute, intensive lessons that combine reading, writing, and phonics/word study. They are introduced to and read a specially created and sequenced set of original children's books, A to N. Teachers use planned lessons that enable them to do highly effective and efficient teaching, with the result of accelerated student progress.

In this highly interactive, three-day institute, participants will learn how to use the LLI System:

- LLI Orange System, Levels A–C (Kindergarten), 70 Lessons with 70 original titles
- LLI Green System: Levels A–J (Grade 1), 110 Lessons with 110 original titles
- LLI Blue system: Levels C–N (Grade 2), 120 Lessons with 120 original titles

Participants will use several new resources all of which are included within each of the LLI Systems:

- When Readers Struggle: Teaching That Works, a new professional book from Pinnell and Fountas
- The Lesson Guide for titles in the series, 6-page lessons for every title with relevant literacy continuum pages for each level
- The Fountas & Pinnell Prompting Guide 1: Teaching for Strategies in Reading and Writing, a tool for using powerful language 'on the run' while working alongside readers
- The Program Guide that comprehensively outlines the implementation of the System

Who should attend?

- Literacy teachers who provide supplemental instruction to children reading below level N (beginning third grade level)
- Title 1 and any other reading resource teachers who work with children reading below level N
- Special education teachers who work with a range of children reading below level
- Staff development personnel and literacy coaches who support teachers who are providing supplementary teaching to struggling readers.

Cost: $749

Contact: Heinemann Professional Development at 800-541-2086, ext.1151 or visit pd.heinemann.com for further details, including group and early bird discount rates and detailed agenda.

In addition to learning how to implement LLI lessons, this institute will deepen your understanding of many research-based techniques to help struggling readers make accelerated progress.
